

Parent Presentations

Evidence Based Approach to Teen Sexual Health - Parent Presentations:

Are you the parent of a tween or a teen? Are you wondering how to counter the sex saturated culture that our kids are growing up in? Believe me, you are not alone. S.W.A.T. is eager to assist parents in reference to the hot topic of teen sex. Parents MUST be the primary source of effective relationship education for their children. Talli's goal is:

- Inform parents of the current, important facts pertaining to teen sex.
- Remove barriers that keep parents from discussing the importance of healthy sexual boundaries, self respect, and respect for others.
- Equip parents with relevant, creative concepts and tools to tackle this topic.

Teen Sex and our Country - Lunch and Learn Awareness Session

This 1-hour session provides a brief overview of the issues related to teen sex in our country. The goal is to realistically educate parents and to motivate them to talk openly and honestly with their teens. Due to the time constraint, this presentation doesn't allow ample time for solid equipping ideas or the solution to the problem. Fee: $300.00, plus additional travel expenses if the training location is 30+ miles from Johns Creek, GA.

Getting Results! Changing Lives: GA Sex Education Curriculum Opt in/out Parent Meeting

This 90 minute presentation walks parents through the GA Sex Education Curriculum being presented in 6th - 9th grade health classroom. This workshop allows parents to be educated and better understand the curriculum from a non-biased perspective which then provides a solid platform for parents to have healthy and necessary conversations with their sons and daughters and to decide if they would like to opt their child in/out of the classroom environment during the sex education unit. Fee: $350.00, plus additional travel expenses if the training location is 30+ miles from Johns Creek, GA.

Countering the Teen Hook-Up Culture - Daytime or Evening Session

This 90 minute presentation informs parents about the reality of teen sex today and equips parents to counter the culture and talk openly with their pre-teen and teen sons and daughters. This training provides ample ideas for parents to implement within their home to prevent teen sexual activity. This presentation is great for parents of 4th grade through 10th grade students. The younger the child the better. Topics covered in the workshop include the whole person approach to sexuality, teen pregnancy, sexually transmitted infections, dating, refusal skills, and influences. Fee: 400.00, plus additional travel expenses if the training location is 30+ miles from Johns Creek, GA. Let's Talk About S~E~X - Daytime or Evening Session

This 2-hour presentation informs parents in detail about the reality of teen sex in our current culture and equips parents to counter the culture and talk openly with their pre-teen and teen sons and daughters. This is an intensive training with ample ideas and strategies for parents to implement within their home to prevent teen sexual activity. This presentation is great for parents of 4th grade through 10th grade students. The younger the child the better. Topics covered in the workshop include the whole person approach to sexuality, teen pregnancy, sexually transmitted infections, dating, refusal skills, influences, short discussion time prompt, open Q&A, and much more. Fee: $400.00, plus additional travel expenses if the training location is 30+ miles from Johns Creek, GA. Additional Topics Covered:

- Details of how different the world is now from when many parents were teenagers.
- Examples of the cultural message regarding sex ( i.e. "friends with benefits") and strategies for countering these messages.
- Tips for communicating more effectively about sex with your kids.
- Importance of being consistent with discipline and the benefits of household guidelines.
- Benefits of communicating well with the parents of your teenager's friends.
- Practical tools to help you positively influence your teens. Great Resources Provided:
- The Law: Rape and Sexting
- The Social Apps Parents Need to Know
- Questions and Topics to Prompt a Parents Thinking
- Main Points in a Take-Home Format

Let's Talk About S~E~X

This is a thought provoking 3-hour training that thoroughly equips parents with strategies and medically accurate information to talk to their teens about sex. Topics covered in the workshop include the whole person approach, teen pregnancy, sexually transmitted infections, dating, refusal skills, influences, and much more. Expect open discussions, challenging questions, and take home strategies. Fee: There is an individual registration fee for this training. Additional Topics Covered:

- Details of how different the world is now from when many parents were teenagers.
- Examples the cultural message regarding sex (i.e. "friends with benefits") and strategies for countering these messages
- Tips for communicating more effectively about sex with your kids.

- Importance of being consistent with discipline and the benefits of household guidelines.
- Benefits of communicating well with the parents of your teenager's friends.
- Practical tools to help you positively influence your teens. Great Resources Provided: The Law: Rape and Sexting The Social Apps Parents Need to Know Questions and Topics to Prompt a Parents Thinking Main Points in a Take-Home Format This training is offered three times per year at the Women's Clinic of Atlanta, Johns Creek location.

*The Spiritual Side of Sex is made available for $10.00 per person for those interested in such a resource. For more information, click here.

To Schedule a Parent Training Please Contact Talli Moellering via Email: Talli@tlcconsultantsinc.com

91% of high school seniors say it is important to them to have a good marriage and family life, yet little is being done to educate and prepared them.

Bachman, J.G., L.D. Johnston, and P.M. O'Malley (2008). Monitoring the Future: Questionnaire responses from the nation's high school seniors, 2006. Ann Arbor, MI: Institute for Social Research, P.46.

Nearly all teens surveyed (92%) believe that young people should be taught about saving sex for marriage. A large majority of teens (84%) believe that young people should be taught to be married before they have a child. Albert, B. With One Voice: America's Adults and Teens Sound Off About Teen Pregnancy. Washington, DC: National Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy, 2007. pp 13-14.

These presentations inform and motivate parents regarding the importance of teen sexual health. Each presentation combines eye-opening, research-based facts about widespread teen sexual activity and consequences with clear guidelines for encouraging teens to make healthy choices. *A kind note from a parent that attended a training: "There was so much useful info in your presentation I hardly know where to start!"

"I guess for me the most striking visual was the chart showing the steps leading from hugging to intercourse with the line drawn at making out. In a short, concise, one line delivery you summed up what this battle is all about. I believe it will make... it easier for my son to understand the "start with the end in mind" approach and allow us to have a more meaningful discussion about his choices. You also educated me on how important it is for me to help set boundaries before he finds himself in a difficult situation. I always just used the "don't do it theory", but kids today know so much more than we did at this age. You helped me understand that I need to go into much more detail with him, and your straight forward explanation has given me the courage to do just that. I now also see why it is important to revisit the topic on a regular basis, at that same level of detail."

"Thank you again for sharing such important "parent life-skills" with us. S.B. - shared with written permission"

TLC Consultants, Inc. only offers the faith based perspective to this topic upon request. All other presentations are delivered according to medical accuracy.